F.A.I.R. blends tradition with modernity

For over 50 years, F.A.I.R. of Italy has been a distinguished name in shotgun manufacturing, skilfully blending historic gunmaking traditions with advanced technology. The Jubilee line exemplifies this tradition, characterized by its classic styling and elegant details. Designed with protruding profile actions, these over-and-unders stand out in both aesthetics and functionality, showcasing F.A.I.R.'s commitment to refined craftsmanship.

The range within the Jubilee line is extensive, offering many configurations tailored to specific uses. The line expands further with the Prestige versions, which feature sideplates that enhance their sophisticated appearance. The attention to detail in these firearms extends to features such as a fret-worked top lever adorned with a golden crown, and finely crafted stocks and forends made from select quality walnut with detailed checkering and a wooden butt plate.

An attractive aspect of the Jubilee models is their exclusive design across four different action configurations in gauges 12, 16, 20 and 28. Notably, F.A.I.R. takes pride in producing one of the few 16-gauge over-and-unders with a specifically dedicated action. This commitment highlights the company's dedication to offering a broad spectrum of choices to suit various shooting disciplines and preferences.

The Jubilee and Jubilee XLIGHT models share configurations but differ in the material of the action. The Jubilee features a chromed steel action, while the Jubilee XLIGHT opts for ERGAL 55 — a robust aluminum commonly used in aeronautics — finished with nickel, emphasizing F.A.I.R.'s innovative approach to materials.

The Prestige versions are available in three different variants: the Jubilee Prestige, with a classic chrome finish; the Jubilee Prestige Tartaruga Gold, which features a color-hardened finish with five golden subjects; and the Jubilee Prestige Xlight, with an aluminum action and nickel finishes. Each of these variants offers distinct aesthetic choices for discerning shooters looking for something different.

Importantly, the Jubilee models are equipped with interchangeable chokes and are tested for steel shot in the 12 and 20 gauges, enhancing their versatility and appeal. The 16-gauge models receive special attention for their ideal balance of dimensions, weight and ballistic performance, catering to a resurgence of interest among shooting enthusiasts.

The Jubilee Sporting model, produced in calibers .28 and .410, is designed not only for new shooters entering the world of sport shooting but also for those seeking an elegant firearm for competition use. These models feature actions machined from forged steel ingots, ensuring durability across all hunting gauges. The standard barrel length is 71cm, but options for 68cm or 76cm are available upon request, all equipped with "Technichoke" chokes.

The barrels of these shotguns are made from special three-alloyed steel and are internally chromed to protect the gun and maintain its characteristics over time. The aesthetic elegance of the action body is further enhanced in some models with golden subjects and various finishes, adding a touch of luxury and distinctiveness to each piece.

F.A.I.R.'s Jubilee line not only reflects the manufacturer's rich heritage and innovative spirit but also shows off the craftsmanship and advanced engineering that shooters have come to expect from one of the leaders in the firearm industry.
